

Janepher Otieno

Founder, The Bloom Umbrella™ • Author • Educator • Registered nurse

SPEAKER PROFILE

Janepher Otieno brings experience in nursing, postsecondary education, family caregiving, authorship and community capacity building to conversations about better decisions, voice and intergenerational flourishing. Her work connects reflective storytelling with practical learning through The Bloom Umbrella.

POSSIBLE CONVERSATION THEMES

Voice and self-trust

How stories can help people name subtle patterns of relational control without turning a public conversation into diagnosis or individual advice.

The pause before a decision

The Tula Pause™ as a simple way to make room for curiosity, questions and steadier choices.

From survival toward significance

Why restoration, practical foundations and contribution are connected across life stages.

Learning across generations

Financial character and decision-making as family practices through Bloom-a-Bean™.

FOR HOSTS AND EVENT ORGANIZERS

Formats can include an interview, moderated conversation, workshop or keynote discussion. For clinically focused audiences, the Songbird books by Liora Almas can be discussed as educational and reflective resources; organizational access is being developed. Please request a tailored outline and confirm scope before promotion.

For clinical and organizational listeners

The Songbird and the Weaver • by Liora Almas

THE BOOKS

A reflective framework for recognizing coercive control and reclaiming self-trust, paired with an allegory companion. The two ranked #1 and #2 in Amazon.ca Hot New Releases for Domestic Partner Abuse on September 26 and remained there on September 27, 2026. These dated category rankings are not a measure of sales or outcomes.

INSTITUTIONAL DISCUSSION

Teams can enquire about named staff access, permitted client handouts, sites, renewal, facilitator needs and optional workshops. The licensing schedule remains a working proposal; terms and prices are set by agreement.

SUGGESTED HOST MENTION

“If your listeners are clinicians or work with organizations, The Bloom Umbrella has a short overview of the Songbird books and is inviting enquiries about responsible institutional use. The link is thebloomumbrella.com/organizations.”
